Alpine Farmhouse

Kitchen and bath remodel, whole home remodel, historical home, exterior renovation • Project Cost: $1,600,000

This historical 1913 farmhouse, nestled in charming Little Switzerland, underwent a complete and meticulous reconstruction to harmoniously blend its original charm with modern comforts. Every detail, from replicated door trim to reclaimed mantles, reflects a commitment to authenticity and its rich heritage. The result is a seamless fusion of old and new—where original features like solid wood doors, brass hardware, and hardwood floors are integral elements while being complemented by contemporary conveniences like updated appliances, energy-efficient systems, and incredible tile work. This revitalized beauty offers a unique living experience, where you can appreciate the character of the past within a thoughtfully designed and comfortable modern environment.

Scope of Work: Custom Carpentry • Custom Stone Work • New Electrical/Lighting • New Plumbing • New HVAC • New Windows • Interior and Exterior Paint • Siding • Outdoor Living Spaces • Preservation of Wrap around Porch • Custom Cabinetry • Stunning Tile • Preserving Fireplaces and surrounds/mantles
